Again the sound could be much better considering the price and Name.

My brother had a bose system in the late 80s early 90s and I remembered the sound quality it was awesome, thats why I choose the bose system. I believe they are making everything of cheaper quaility these days.I just love the sound of it and we as a family started to enjoy the music so much more than earlier. reviews info Mexicanmike Mexicanmike Rated 4 out of 5 stars Great, for what IT is Posted 11 years ago. Mexicanmike By no means is this the best setup you can get for the price of the unit. That being said, Bose is the best at what they do. The form factor is small, everything is integrated, comes with a RF remote that can program to most IR devices. This unit is great for the average customer who is more focused on small form factor and ease of use without paying someone to setup or calibrate components. The unit doesnt have the greatest ability for expansion, minimal digital inputs, but will suffice for a HiDef dvd player, sat box, and maybe one gaming system. The universal remote will never give you full functionality on third party components. Low frequency reproduction is not by todays standards, booming, but it does give descent, clean, natural reproduction. Again, not the best for the price, but if you dont want floor standing speakers, or the wife wants something that will hide away easy on the ceiling, walls or bookshelves, bose will tuck away nicely. My recommendation for a friend is on the terms that they are looking for what bose offers small, easy to setup, integrated, semiintelligent music selection, cosmetically appealing. I have this in my bedroom where space is limited and additional items are limited.

For the dollar, I would buy vienna acoustic grands and a good receiver with HDMI upconversion for a main room setup, in fact, I did do that. Martin Logan Abyss kills the bose sub. I would recommend Always wanted a Bose Posted 12 years ago.A little pricey, but if you like your home theater systems and use them often, it is more than worth the price. I also purchased the room link, and what a fantastic devise this is! Awesome technology from Bose.And I must say I had an excellent experience setting up with Bose tech support and walked me thru the entire setup. After my phone call with them I was up and running in no time. I would definately recommend getting this product I would of 5 stars Bose System Posted 11 years ago.Bose should drop the prices for these systems. You do notWe can't store MP3 songs in it, that is bad part. Other than that this is the best.I would do it again and not have waited so long. It is worth the price for the sound quality you get and the ability to store cds and retrieve any time. The unit will learn your favorites and we have also added the Boselink to other rooms. You can retrieve your music anytime from songs stored in library. I would out of 5 stars Awesome, Lives up to Hype Posted 12 years ago. JBAlabama Finally was in a financial situation to be able to afford a Bose, and have been simply amazed. Nothing that I can say about this product would do its justice. Simply the absolute best product on the market. Completely revamped our home theatre experience. I would recommend this to a friend Helpful 2 Unhelpful 2 Report Comment jim0244 jim0244 Rated 5 out of 5 stars No Better Audio Quality Posted 11 years ago.

Whether you play video games in surround sound, watch movies, listen to music, or just watch TV, the bose lifestyle does it all. Get it, you wont regret it. All the components appear cheaply made with cheap material. I was shocked to see this after hearing how much he paid. I wouldnt knock this if it was priced right, but the MSRP on this is ridiculous. No, I would not recommend this to a friend
